My daughter is playing on the computer with another kid. They are both naked playing a video game. She is watching her closely and pretending to play the game with the other kid. It seems innocent enough until you notice she has her hand up her shirt and pulling on her bra. She tugs her shirt up, revealing her nipples. She doesn't realize her boobs are exposed and it is too late to hide them. Luckily, her other friends aren't around, but the other kid would definitely tell if she was playing around. So the bottom line is this: what do you do if your little girl is touching herself in a public place? Don't worry, we have answers for this. Our goal is to give you the best advice that we can. There is really no right or wrong answer to this question. Everyone has to figure out what is right for them. It's just important to keep that in mind before you get all into a panic. We'll start by telling you some of the things we think are a safe and effective way to deal with this situation. First of all, you need to teach your daughter that this behavior is not okay and that she needs to not do it in public. This is something that takes time and patience. It is definitely not something you should do on a daily basis. Instead, try to do it at the end of the day after she has been to the bathroom. You might need to start out with one bathroom trip. Don't leave her alone in public until you're sure that she understands the right and wrong way to handle herself. Another effective way to teach her the right and wrong ways to act is to show her how you would act in the same situation. Once you are sure that she gets the message and understands the best way to act, you can start leaving her alone in public more often. It doesn't have to be every day if you want to, just make sure to give it time to work. It is important to remember that even if you do everything right, your daughter may not be ready for this. She needs to understand the right and wrong way to act in a variety of situations. If she is touching herself in a public place, it may be because of hormones. She may not even be aware of it. So teach her the best way to act in a variety of situations.
