Best Buy of the Week - Kistler Soler Double - 24" Regular price$299.95Sale $224.45 In Stock Quantity The Kistler Soler Double is truly the king of all towbars! The Soler Double is the ultimate towbar for all mountain, endurance and enduro bikes. The Soler Double is a one piece design, meaning there are no bolts, nuts or hardware to remove. If you're a true minimalist, then the Soler Double is the towbar for you! The Soler Double also has the most patented, crush-proof design. The rear cradle and stabilizer bar are both bolted to the frame using an epoxy lock to ensure maximum bike security. The Kistler Soler Double towbar is perfect for enduro bikes that have the same frame geometry as an enduro bike or for enduro bikes that are being used in an E-bike application (E-bikes are designed for off-road, mountain riding).
CHICAGO -- The Chicago Cubs will remember the World Series loss to the Cleveland Indians in seven games as one of the most intense battles of their past two seasons. They can now add the other title to that mix as well. One day after falling short against the Indians in their 2016 World Series matchup, the Cubs are on the verge of claiming the Commissioner's Trophy with a sweep of the Colorado Rockies in the National League Championship Series. "The thing that most reminds me of the '16 game is the 2-1 deficit," Cubs manager Joe Maddon said. "Just seeing them come back, just watching that thing -- I just can't imagine. I'm so proud of the group. I'm so proud of the effort they've put in all season long. They did everything we asked them to do. They did it better than we could have asked them to do it." Anthony Rizzo and Kris Bryant led the Cubs to a 4-3 win in Game 6. Rob Grabowski/USA TODAY Sports Joe Maddon's resilient Cubs beat up and down the roster showed up at Wrigley Field in the NLCS.
