This is referred to as the `TryBlock` of the try block. Error ID: BC31112 ## To correct this error - Ensure that the `TryEnd` of the `TryBlock` is the `EndTry` procedure. ## See also - Try Statements - End Try - Try End Q: Can we write Programmability tag? As we have knowledge-based softwares and Programmability can be used to decide the knowledge required to develop software and is used to decide the programming skills of a person. But as most of the questions tagged with 'Programmability' are just general questions and doesn't need any knowledge of programming languages. So I think 'Programmability' tag should be removed. Here is an example: How to convert a string to an
