A: I just need that with SQL Server, specifically with one of my databases. I have tried to run it in different queries, but I get the following error: SQL Server Network Interfaces: The wait operation timed out I'm using SQL Server 2014, VS 2013 and SQL Server Management Studio Express. A: I just need that with SQL Server, specifically with one of my databases. You cannot install Microsoft SQL Server Management Studio Express on SQL Server 2016. Management Studio has no SQL Server compatibility, so this means it will not be able to do any query or maintenance. However, if you want to perform some query only, you can just use sqlcmd from command prompt. For example, sqlcmd -S localhost\SQLEXPRESS -Q "select * from MyTable" This will just print out the list of data in the table. You can run this from your Visual Studio too. We are in the final days before the Iowa Caucuses and Donald Trump's staff is pulling out all the stops. The latest? Former Miss America and RNC spokeswoman Alicia Cox, who is back as press secretary and who hasn't worked in politics since Trump fired her in 2012. It's a pretty curious thing to do, especially because Cox was at the center of Trump's "pied Piper" strategy of attracting first-time voters to his campaign. She said during the primaries that she signed up "a whole slew of people who never voted before," and used Miss America's broadcast network to convince them to vote for Trump. It was a notable change from the Romney campaign, which were heavy on the memorabilia, a strategy that just didn't work. From Politico: As a general election campaign, though, Cox's role is another matter. "I was on the board at the Republican National Committee," she said, though didn't name names. "We're now here at the bottom of the eighth inning. I think that Trump and those in his orbit don't necessarily understand that this is not the way to handle this situation. This is not the time." Cox is hardly the only one with a memory problem. Earlier this week, Trump's senior communications adviser, Jason Miller, said "the media 2d92ce491b
