Please Help me figure out whats causing it and how to fix it. How can I split a string and use parseInt() on it? A: It should work for the last line of the code as, var str = "line1,line2,line3"; var lines = str.split(","); console.log(lines); //output ['line1', 'line2', 'line3'] If you are getting error "parseInt() is not a function" In that case try, var str = "line1,line2,line3"; var lines = str.split(",").map(function(el){ return parseInt(el); });
