I recently updated my server: apt-get update apt-get upgrade And the computer was still running fine. However, when I turned it on, the linux kernel couldn't find the boot drive! I'm trying to figure out where my server went wrong. When I ran sudo dpkg --configure -a I got the following: Setting up grub-common (2.02~beta2-36ubuntu3.7)... setvcodecourses: error: couldn't find corresponding system call Installing for i386-pc platform. Could it be because of some language or keyboard issue? And will installing a copy of grub2 from a CD do it? A: Your error is "Could it be because of some language or keyboard issue?" Your server was probably in a language other than English, and did not have the appropriate keyboards installed for that language. If the installer asked you where the disk you were installing on was connected and you didn't have the right keyboard (for example, the name of the disk was 3e33713323
