Clean house, make the bed, wash the dishes and even vacuum. And then, when he was done, he got out an old flannel shirt that he had worn for years and slept in every night. And he learned to wear that shirt like no one else ever could. He learned to love it. He knew a lot of people who thought he was weird. And they were right. Goody, Smelly, Weird Duncan Hey, folks! We are Duncan McAllister and Anabel Quinlan from KGMB's Good Day New Orleans and we have a story for you today - something that we hope will help you find love. Here's what's going on. When Duncan was five, his father went to jail. That was hard. He started falling asleep in his clothes. He missed his dad. Anabel went to the drugstore. She was trying to make a good impression. She wondered if Duncan would like her. Her phone got wet, but she didn't mind. She wiped it off. And then she looked down. Duncan loved it when a girl wiped her phone. It made him want to kiss her. Goody, Smelly, Weird Duncan "Come on in! What can we do for you, Ms. I kind of want my husband back. But, I'm not sure how to get him back. I always thought I didn't deserve a good man. Duncan McAllister and Anabel Quinlan, KGMB Good Day New Orleans All you needed was Anabel. She didn't try to impress Duncan. She brought him a clean plate for breakfast, made him a peanut butter sandwich, and then hugged him. Duncan was surprised. He held on to her tight. "I miss you," he whispered. "Look, this is embarrassing - but I never thought you were ugly. "I think you're really pretty," he told her. "Then why did you run away?" she asked. Goody, Smelly, Weird Duncan "I don't know. It

â€œ Itâ€™s a different person,â€ he says. â€œWhen you see your son grow up, you realize he canâ€™t be your son anymore.â€. Fuck UloDescription:The application is designed specially for people. How can we get better? What things can we do to be more effective?. What do you think?Video Alexander Sharpton during his campaign in the Dallas-Fort Worth area in November 2017. (Tyrone Beamon/News21 via AP) (Newser) - A sixth-generation campaigner in his family's Texas political machine, Alexander Sharpton has long held a combative attitude toward Democrats in the state, the Dallas Morning News reports. His negative view of the party has been proven on the national level, as he was once viewed by Trump as a potential running mate, but the Texas GOP has imploded. "We have a Republican problem," Sharpton told a forum in his hometown. "We are the party that doesn't bother voting." He has endorsed Eric Garcetti for governor, and urges Texans to vote for him as a response to "what's happening in Washington." But even as the party loses credibility on both sides of the aisle, Sharpton acknowledges that "we're losing our minds" and Democrats are "working harder and having more fun." Sharpton, a Dallas Mavericks diehard who is running for Dallas County Sheriff, enjoys a bit of a media spotlight in the city. In 2016, he was named one of the top 10 most influential black people in Texas, and he was at the center of controversy over a photo featuring him as a "scholar-in-residence." He was accused of trying to profit off his position, but has denied any wrongdoing. And as the report notes, Sharpton, as a member of the state GOP, could have additional influence on legislative priorities during a Republican-controlled legislature. He has raised eyebrows in the past by calling Sen. Ted Cruz a "corrupt, lying, soulless, Satan-worshipping liar" and his Twitter profile is a mix of Democrats and Republicans. Still, Sharpton's campaign insists that "the Republican Party has stepped in it" when it comes to the Texas GOP, which is struggling with scandals in the wake of former House Speaker Joe Straus' retirement and the resignation of state GOP Executive Director Manny Garcia.
