Q: What does AddRemoveAppliance:
UpdateDevice: succeed and other I'm trying to update my device code, and I have it working most of the way. In the LogFile, it shows that it succeeds Microsoft.DataTransfer.WpfDeviceUpdater.AddRemoveApplianceUpdatedDevice Succeeded. Device added DeviceId: 00023772933A. But in the LogFile, it shows some more failures, and to be honest I don't understand why. Microsoft.DataTransfer.WpfDeviceUpdater.PrepareForUpdate: PreparingForUpdate failed. Details: Timeout expired. The timeout period elapsed prior to completion of the operation or the server is not responding. I'm guessing it is failing, because it needs my permission, so it goes to AsyncSetupDevice(). It also shows the following: Error SCM_E_E_APP_VERSION_MISMATCH It's referring to a deviceVersion, in this case 000005728F116414. I can understand that it is failing as the deviceVersion I am referring to should be different to the next version in my device list, but it is not. But now I'm not sure how to remove the device from the device list. At the moment I'm doing as follows:

public void AsyncUpdateDevice(AppUpdateDeviceRequest data) { var deviceUpdateService = new WpfDeviceUpdaterService();
    var device = await deviceUpdateService.UpdateDeviceAsync(data.Id, data.InstallLocation, data.UpdateGUID, data.Version, new System.Threading.CancellationTokenSource(), null); DeviceManager.Instance.RemoveDevice(device.Id);
    UpdateDevicesUI();

You can see that I'm calling the RemoveDevice method. But if it is a bad idea to call that in a async method, how can I get rid of the device in DeviceManager.Instance? A: I solved it. Simply use an async void on the async method, and remove the device from the DeviceManager there.

public async void AsyncUpdateDevice(AppUpdateDeviceRequest data) { var deviceUpdate
